Dominique Levy Gallery, London, presents German artist Günther Uecker's 'Wounded Fields'. The exhibition is on view from September 23, through October 29, 2016.

This show is Uecker's first solo presentation in over fifty years. It spans two entire floors, and features a brand new group of works. Moreover, Dominique Levy gallery will publish the artist's book in conjunction with the exhibition.

The title 'Wounded Fields' comes from a series of six large-scale paintings, exhibited for the first time. They reflect Uecker's deeply physical approach and explore diverse articulations of light and shadow.
